A managed floating system means that currency prices are predominantly determined by supply and demand conditions in an open market (the floating part). However, governments can (and do) occasionally intervene in the currency markets (either directly or indirectly) to try to support a currency that they believe is falling too rapidly or to pressure a currency that is rising too rapidly.

NCERT Solutions For Class 7 Civics Social Science Chapter 5 Women Change the World. 1. How do you think stereotypes, about what women can or cannot do, affect women's right to equality? Answer:

Stereotypes about what women can or cannot do affect women's right to equality because they are termed weak and incapable of doing strong work. It is because of this reason that women are called inferior to men.
