But there is uncomplicated desire and delight in erotic photography too. Bob Carlos Clarke's nudes are deliciously, tangibly, texturally sexy and Gunter Sach's "Ascot" is an innocently puerile and benignly pleasurable realisation of male voyeuristic fantasies. Meanwhile, Nobuyshi Araki takes erotic pictures which play with ambiguities and make clever visual puns.

Grayscale coloring is addicting - you've been warned!:) It is also NOT YOUR TYPICAL COLORING! The gray/black shading is already present. You add your beautiful colors over-top those areas, resulting in a soft, gorgeous, muted look (think old photographs!) Also worthy of note are these few caveats: - the fact that these images are created from antique/vintage photographs and, as a result, DO have varying degrees of blurring and inconsistent shading. -colored pencils or the more dry tools work far better than the more wet tools such as markers or paints. The paper just isn't thick enough and bleeding may occur. If you're unsure how to color grayscale, google search 'how to color grayscale youtube'. You will come up with tutorials that you can utilize to assist you in your creation. A different type of Adult Coloring at its finest. Come Into My Boudoir: a Grayscale Erotic Adult Coloring Book By Ruby Chaste will provide a tantalizing medium for your fantasies. 18 one sided, NON-perforated pages with gorgeous, grayscale images to color; complete with an area on the reverse side of the pages for you to title, sign and date your creation. Each of these erotic antique/vintage boudoir images of women has been used under PERMISSIBLE license and then painstakingly refinished, retouched and restyled by me and are now waiting for your coloring. The shading that is already present in the print allows you to perfect your own color placement and create a gorgeous, frame worthy masterpiece! You add your own color and voila! The seductive allure that each of these temptresses possesses is unmistakable. Come hither as they beckon you into their enticing lair and enjoy this creative and sensuous experience as you become your own 'InstantArteest'. XOXO, Ruby Chaste p.s.~ Be sure and keep an eye out for future works of mine as more titles are in the works.

The Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century Photography explores the vast international scope of twentieth-century photography and explains that history with a wide-ranging, interdisciplinary manner. This unique approach covers the aesthetic history of photography as an evolving art and documentary form, while also recognizing it as a developing technology and cultural force. This Encyclopedia presents the important developments, movements, photographers, photographic institutions, and theoretical aspects of the field along with information about equipment, techniques, and practical applications of photography. To bring this history alive for the reader, the set is illustrated in black and white throughout, and each volume contains a color plate section. A useful glossary of terms is also included.

This book provides a critical assessment of the problem of internet child pornography and its governance through legal and non-legal means, including a comparative assessment of laws in England and Wales, the United States of America and Canada in recognition that governments have a compelling interest to protect children from sexual abuse and exploitation. The internet raises novel and complex challenges to existing regulatory regimes. Efforts towards legal harmonization at the European Union, Council of Europe, and United Nations level are examined in this context and the utility of additional and alternative methods of regulation explored. This book argues that effective implementation, enforcement and harmonization of laws could substantially help to reduce the availability and dissemination of child pornography on the internet. At the same time, panic-led policies must be avoided if the wider problems of child sexual abuse and commercial sexual exploitation are to be meaningfully addressed.

This volume presents the reader with an interesting and, at times, provocative selection of contemporary thinking about cybercrimes and their regulation. The contributions cover the years 2002-2007, during which period internet service delivery speeds increased a thousand-fold from 56kb to 56mb per second. When combined with advances in networked technology, these faster internet speeds not only made new digital environments more easily accessible, but they also helped give birth to a completely new generation of purely internet-related cybercrimes ranging from spamming, phishing and other automated frauds to automated crimes against the integrity of the systems and their content. In order to understand these developments, the volume introduces new cybercrime viewpoints and issues, but also a critical edge supported by some of the new research that is beginning to challenge and surpass the hitherto journalistically-driven news stories that were once the sole source of information about cybercrimes.

This book provides extensive information on pedophilia (sexual interest in the prepubescent body age), hebephilia (sexual interest in the early-pubescent body age) and sexual offenses against children, i.e., the various forms of child sexual abuse, including the use of child sexual abuse images, along with the current state of knowledge concerning offender groups. The book makes it clear that pedophilia or hebephilia do not inevitably lead to offenses against children - that there are those who keep their desires in their fantasies and do not act them out on the behavioral level. The World Health Organization classifies pedophilia as a mental disorder. It can be safely assumed that many pedophile men in a given community live their lives, unrecognized and adamant about hiding their sexual drives from society and from themselves, and who are genuinely motivated not to act upon their sexual fantasies. The numbers of exactly this particular group of pedophilically inclined non-offenders can be increased by preventive therapeutic measures. For this purpose, two treatment programs have been developed at the Institute of Sexology and Sexual Medicine at the Charité-Universitätsmedizin Berlin (University Clinic) since the initiation of the Prevention Project Dunkelfeld in 2005 - First, the project involving adult participants (Berlin Dissexuality Therapy: BEDIT) and later, another for adolescents (BEDIT-A), who find themselves attracted to children. Both program manuals are completely integrated into this work, which reflects 15 years of assessment and treatment experience.
