and evaluation of program activities. Just as assessment data are critical for evidenced-based program planning and implementation, so too is evaluation to prove that workplace health interventions have been effective and build the business case for continuing them.

Evaluation | Model | Workplace Health Promotion | CDC
The program logic model is a generic one, which can be used to inform program planning. An evaluation framework which is built on a program logic model will start with those components of the logic model identified above, and then work through each step of the model to identify whether the assumptions on which the program were built were sound, whether the intended consequences of each logical step occurred and, if not, why not.

Department of Health | 3.5 Evaluation frameworks
Evaluation and Program Planning is based on the principle that the techniques and methods of evaluation and planning transcend the boundaries of specific fields and that relevant contributions to these areas come from people representing many different positions, intellectual traditions, and interests.
