The fer-de-lance is a master killer, even in the dark of night. Its flickering tongue easily picks up the smell of prey from the air, and pits on the snake's face sense the other animal's body heat.

After the change of power in Kyrgyzstan in March 2005 and the massacre in Andijan, Uzbekistan in May 2005, an intimate understanding of the social and political processes in Central Asia now seems more important than ever. Realities of Transformation offers an account of democratization policies and their effects on Central Asia. The authors — from Austria, Germany, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, and Uzbekistan — investigate democratization policies from various perspectives, focusing on the democratization of power structures, democratization through external actors, and democratization of the judicial sector. Finally, the authors shed light on the complicated relationship between democratization and security. Realities of Transformation combines scholarly articles with texts from NGO representatives. This book is an essential reading for anyone interested in Central Asia, democratization issues, or local realities in transforming societies.

In a nation where price alone once dictated consumer decision, a bruised economy and resulting surge of fierce competition have shifted the focus from cost to service. As the humanizing of the customer encounter glides into the spotlight, it's a new dance. Unfortunately, not everyone knows the steps and some of us are clumsy.

This is a side-splitting collection of 60 limericks about the greats of the art world, from Botticelli and Michelangelo to Jackson Pollock and Jeff Koons. A limerick is a 5-line humorous verse, often cheeky or naughty, about an individual. Popularised by Edward Lear, but also put to good effect by W H Auden and Ogden Nash.

For the adapted edition, spelling follows Australian medical terminology conventions and Australian pronunciations are given. The free CD-ROM includes exercise and audio pronunciations, all of which are with an Australian accent.

Available in both Medium High and Medium Low voicings, it includes Accompaniment recordings with Mark Hayes at the piano. A Listening (Full Performance) CD is available separately. Wonderful for concerts, contests and recitals, ideal for worship throughout the year, weddings and funerals!
