Notes. Summary. The Magician's Elephant is about a boy named Peter Duchene who follows an elephant that fell through a roof to find his sister. When Peter arrives home from the market, he hears about how a magician made an elephant fall through the roof of the opera house onto Madam LaVaughn. This of course is strangely remarkable, but even more so to Peter.

Kate DiCamillo is one of the best authors we've discovered in the last three years. She knows how to draw you in from the first few lines of the book. The Magician's Elephant is unique, quirky, at times funny and eccentric, at times unusual and outlandish. But most of all, a wonderful read.

Magician's Elephant

(DiCamillo) - LitLovers

Peter Duchene is the main character in The Magician's Elephant. He is a caring, curious, sweet, loving, intelligent, ten-year-old boy. He is a soldier in training, although it is not what he really wants.

However, he has no choice.

His guardian Vilna Lutz holds the power, and apparently decides who Peter is and isn't.

and when Houdini brought her onto the stage she would raise her trunk as though she were saying hello to the audience, and then she would walk into a box on wheels - and disappear. Who taught Houdini how to do this magic trick? And how did Houdini do it? First the who. In the early part of the 1900's, a man named Charles Morrith (1860-1936), sold and taught Houdini the basic principles of this illusion.
