"For the Fallen" is a poem written by Laurence Binyon. It was first published in The Times in September 1914.. Over time, the third and fourth stanzas of the poem (usually now just the fourth) have been claimed as a tribute to all casualties of war, regardless of state. This selection of the poem is often taken as an ode that is often recited at Remembrance Day services, and is what the term ...

We Shall Remember Them! Remembrance Day (known in the Ghanaian military sphere as Eleven-Eleven) is a memorial day observed in Commonwealth member states since the end of the First World War to remember members of their armed forces who have died in the line of duty. Remembrance day is observed in Ghana and most countries on 11 November to recall the end of hostilities of First World War on that date in 1918.
